

Green Building for Building Professionals

October 14-15, 2009— 8:00 am ~ 5:00 pm

Central Washington Home Builders Association presents...

Green Building for Building Professionals

This course for building professionals discusses strategies for incorporating green-building principles into homes without driving up the cost of construction. You will learn how green homes provide buyers with better value, quality and better long-term value. Techniques are also discussed for competitively differentiating your home products with increased indoor environmental quality as well as energy and resource efficiency.
